In Loving Memory

The Twenty-Third Psalm

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures:
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil:
for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies;
thou anointest my head with oil;
my cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life:
and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

What's The Answer?

THE QUESTION

If you ran for a public office, would it be because your friends urged you to or because you wanted the job?

Walter Luther Shirley, 818 East 58th Street, Funeral Director—I have only made one race for public office, the Legislature, and I did that wholly on my own initiative. I believe that I would never run for office at all because my friends, or politicians, urged me to do so, but I would run only when I felt I was duly qualified to hold down the job and could render valuable service to my fellowmen.

Herbert P. Muller, 115 East 13th Street, Accountant—I have never wanted to hold public office, but if I ever ran for public office, it would be because I had been urged by friends to make the race for an office that they felt and I also felt I was qualified to fill. I would have to be "drafted," in other words.

Frank Moore, 302 North Randolph, Supervisor—If I ever ran for public office of any kind, I would be in there trying to clean up just like the average politician who does make the race, and it would be for what I could get out of it. That's my candid opinion.

Shirley Will Gives Property to Widow

All personal property and a lifetime interest in a 282-acre farm in the southeastern part of Hamilton county was bequeathed to Mrs. Bertha Shirley, widow of O. N. Shirley, Indianapolis funeral director who died recently, according to his will filed for probate in the Hamilton circuit court Wednesday. Following her death, the property will go to the two sons, Walter L. Shirley and W. Kenneth Shirley. The widow was named executrix.

Dear Marian and Walt,

We want to again espress our sympathy in the loss of your mother. She lived a good long full life and we are glad she did not have a lingering illness before her death. Having said that, we know there is a void left that only time can heal. We shall keep the family in our prayers.

We appreciate your trying to reach us and we are glad that we did get the word and were able to share the time with you. We appreciate having been included in the family gathering at the house, and Marian's guiding us there. It was, indeed, a delight to meet so many of the family. I didn't quite get around to everyone, but those I did not speak to I saw. We had such a nice visit with your Frank and Sandy. I talked a bit to Charlie but did not talk with Alice's husband. We do wish Alice a quick recovery. She has two nice children. We enjoyed them.

I meant to thank you for the picture of the family which you sent at Christmastime. I have looked at it again since being with you and the faces mean so much more.

Marian, when you have all of the dates correct perhaps I'd better check with you and get mine correct, too.

Walt, we want you to take good care of yourself, get that surgery behind you and kick up your heels a little more. You are seven years younger than I and from my perspective you are a young man. There is a lot of living to be done yet.

We do invite you to come to Ft. Wayne and visit us and the library. I'll not suggest a time, but when you see a possibility, give us a call and we hope it will work for us, too. Phone: (219) 749-1999.

Sincerely,

Virginia

2/6/91

Dear Marian and Walt,

Thank you, Marian, for your letter and the information.

Don't bother any more about D.R.'s first wife. I did have her maiden name (Johnson) and it doesn't matter what happened to that marriage.

We are glad that Gladys is doing so well. Give her our greetings.

Walt, we certainly hope everything goes well with you when you have surgery this spring. Drop us a line, Marian, if you have the time to let us know about it.

You are really making progress on the genealogy! I have not gotten back into it. Yes, there are many lines to explore!

We are well and have been quite busy since Christmas, but not any of it is worth writing about! We are looking forward to a call from California in late April telling us that our grandchild has arrived. We plan to go out in early June, if all goes well. That is old stuff for you folks but this will be our first.

Thanks again for keeping our records up-to-date.

Love,

Virginia

ttle switches from Congress to FCC flood the FCC with suggestions on implementing the regulatory guidelines. The FCC has considerable leeway in deciding which rate regulations are adopted.

The cable industry has repeatedly said the bill will cause rates to rise because it burdens them with extra costs. Nonetheless, consumer advocates praised the bill and said many cable TV subscribers might actually see lower rates as soon as six months from now.

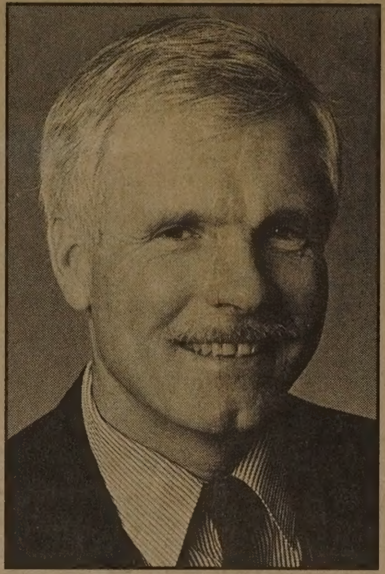
Turner's lawsuit challenges the must-carry provisions in the legislation, which require cable TV systems to carry most major local over-the-air TV stations at the request of the broadcaster. A broadcaster would have to chose between must-carry and so-called "retransmission consent," which allow the local TV station to negotiate a license fee to be carried by the cable system.

"Must-carry" regulations have been found unconstitutional twice by the courts.

Cable TV systems currently carry the heavily-watched local TV stations for free, while sometimes paying hefty fees to carry the less-watched cable channels. Cable channels such as Turner, owner of CNN, fear that if cable systems must pay to carry local TV stations then that may force cable channels off the dial or reduce their fees.

"The four Turner networks (CNN, Headline News, TNT and The Cartoon Network) collectively spend $700 million on programming, about one-third what each network spends," said Bert Carp, vice president of government relations for Turner. "It is not a level playing field."

Although Turner won a 1985 court decision striking down must-carry provisions adopted by the FCC, cable bill supporters nonetheless said it will be much more difficult to overrule this time because the congressional statutes provide an "adequate rationale."



FILE PHOTO

Ted Turner's cable company filed a lawsuit challenging the bill.

But it is not even clear how many broadcasters will seek retransmission consent and try to negotiate some kind of payment from cable systems.

"I plan to talk about it with my lawyer next week," promised John Conte, owner of KMIR-TV in Palm Springs, Calif. — the highest cable TV penetration market in the country. Todd Holmes, vice president of KSEE-TV in Fresno, Calif., said he's begun informal discussions with local cable operators, but does not know what he'll do, either.

Until the court decides on the Turner suit, which was expected to be joined in the coming days and weeks by others, the cable companies are scrambling to secure their ground.

The cable industry says the new legislation will increase rates, despite rate-control language in the bill, because it also allows cable operators to recover their higher expenses.

"The bill states we get to recover 'actual costs' in rate-making proceedings, and to the extent a local broadcaster can extract a dollar, that's actual cost," said Bob Thomson, vice president of government affairs for Denver-based cable giant Tele-Communications Inc. "To the extent it requires us to install additional equipment like converter boxes, that, too, is actual costs."

TCI, which serves one-fifth of the country's cable subscribers, has said it will not pay retransmission fees.

The FCC has six months to implement the guidelines of the cable TV bill and must determine what are "reasonable" rates for basic cable service.

FRANCIS M. SHIRLEY, farmer and merchant, of Lincoln township, Hendricks county, Ind., was born June 21, 1842, on the homestead on which [illegible]e still resides, and is a son of James and Deborah (Presley) Shirley. The father was born in Bourbon county, Ky., was among the first settlers of Lincoln township, Hendricks county, and is now making his residence with his son, the subject of this sketch. To Mr. and Mrs. James Shirley were born eight children, six of whom were reared to maturity and were named Robert, Rebecca, John, Louisa, Francis M. and George G.; the remaining two died in infancy. Francis M. Shirley received a very fair education in the local public school, and in 1860 he and his brother, George W., engaged in the mercantile business at Lizton, which they conducted together with profit for six years, when Francis M. returned to farming, and has since resided on his neat place of 120 acres. He is connected, however, with his father in the hardware business at Brownsburg, under the firm name of Shirley & Son, and this house is now doing a prosperous trade. In politics Mr. Shirley is a democrat, and in religion he is a Methodist, belonging to [illegible] M. E. congregation of Brownsburg. He is happily united in wedlock with Emily, daughter of Lawrence Leak, of Hendricks county, and to this union have been born the following children: Allie E., Ottie, Beelie E., Walter (deceased), Clarence and Luther N.

WILLIAM HYLTON, of Lincoln township, Hendricks county, Ind., is a native of Carroll county, Va., and was born July 5, 1829. His father, Samuel Hylton, was also a native of the same county and state, and was born in 1805. In 1835 the latter gentleman came to Indiana and located near Cartersburg, Hendricks county, but in 1837 purchased eighty acres in Washington township, in the same county, which land he cleared, cultivated and resided upon the remainder of his days. He was the father of six children, named as follows: William, Wesley (deceased), Eli (deceased), Timanda J. (wife of William Hadley of Washington township), Stephen (who was a member of company C, Fifty-first Indiana volunteer infantry, and died in the service) and Nancy C. (who married John F. Franklin, and with her husband deceased). The father of this family departed this life in 1842.

William Hylton was reared in Indiana on the home place until 1852, when he purchased a farm in Washington township, Hendricks county, on which he resided until 1856, when he bought eighty acres of his present place, on which he has made all the improvements and which he has increased to 147 acres. In 1851 Mr. Hylton married Margaret, daughter of John Barlow, of Montgomery county, Ind., and to this union have been born the following children: Martha (deceased), John S. (deceased), Allie (wife of H. A. Smith), Mary (deceased), Viola (wife of William A. Smith), Charles W. (deceased), Lilly B. (married to R. C. Smith), Maggie and William H. In politics Mr. Hylton is an ardent republican and in 1879 was elected county commissioner; he stands high socially and is a member of the Brownsburg lodge, No. 188, I. O. O. F., and a charter member of the encampment. He is also a member of the White Lick Presbyterian church, and he and family enjoy the regard and respect of all their neighbors.

EXPERIENCE

Thompson Industries, Inc.
Indianapolis, Indiana

1947-1956 Sales Department; Mouldings Division;

Began as Sales and Deliver Coordinator, moving later to direct field representation.

1956-1958 Assistant Sales Manager: Mouldings Division

Successfully developed first Divisional business with major Detroit automotive account, in addition to serving original territory. Also trained new Field Sales personnel. Business volume personally handled in excess of $4,000,000 annually.

1958-1960 Field Sales Manager: Mouldings Division:

Assumed and successfully executed responsibility of leading Account Managers, serving all Division accounts. Also secured initial orders from new areas for Metal Products Division, leading to $7,500,000 volume within two and one-half years.

1960-1962 General Sales Manager: Mouldings, Ansted and North Vernon Divisions:

Managed sales action in behalf of above divisions with a total volume of $8,000,000. Continued indirect responsibility to Metal Products Division. Total Volume responsibility all plants - $15,000,000.

Modernized sales records, procedures and services at Ansted Division. Also involved with Corporate Research and Development Group. Initiated U.S. Government Security clearance for Corporate and Ansted staffs.

Between March and September, 1962, participated in new program intended to permit consolidation and centralization of all Corporate Divisions with General Motors Automotive Divisions.

The Walter Shirley Company
Indianapolis, Indiana

1962-1968 Established Sales Agency:

Successfully inaugurated activity as Manufacturer's Representative by developing new accounts for new Principals in first year amounting to over $500,000. Approximately 50% of new business developed in markets other than those served previously. Business volume has increased steadily each year.

1969 - Incorporated.

Have successfully expanded growth to cover slightly larger territory and sales continue upward trend.

Lawson MO 64062

Lebanon Pioneer   18 February 1959
Celebrated Fayette Resu. Cases
Miss Maria Smith
Mrs. Martin Shirley

Graves Robbed Later Part of 1858

One of the gruesome episodes took place in the latter part of the year 1858 and together with the arrest and trial of the alleged culprets was widely heralded at the time as the "celebrated Fayette Resurrection Cases". Four men were said to have been involved, a young man named John K. Edwards, a Mr. Gosset, and two physicians, Dr. Grimes and Dr. Eaves. Edwards and Grimes were apprehended but Eaves and Gosset avoided arrest by skinning the country. Edwards and Grimes were first charged with the exhumation and theft of the body of Miss Maria Smith from a graveyard near Fayette but following a hearing in the justice of the peace court the charge was dismissed. They were then rearrested and charged with stealing the remains of Mrs. Martin Shirley from the same cenetery. On a change of ~~re~~venue to the Montgomery Co. Court of Common Pleas and after a 2 day jury trial, the accused men were acquitted on two counts and other charges against them were quashed. Edwards was said to have confessed that he, Gosset and Eaves took up the bodies but that Grimes was present when the cadavers were dissected and knew in what manner they had been obtained.

Told by Dollie (Shirley) Land - Grandpa Martin Shirley was given back the body. A pitch dark night he took her out and buried her on the farm (about ½ mile south of Fayette). No one Knows where or ever did. The first Fayette Church was about ¼ mile south of Fayette and had a small cemetery I visited the cemetery but stones toppled over and couldn't tell much about it. It's mostly Shirleys and Smiths. That's where the grave robbery took place.

The above from (Frieda Eileen Nunally), Mrs. Ralph Earl Kouns, 6520 East State Road 47, Lebanon, Indiana 46052. Do you know her? She is descended from Benjamin Thomas Shirley (s/o Levi Shirley and Nancy Ann Smith) and Arminta Belle Smith (d/o Jacob T. Smith and Margaret Ellen Cooper.)

Dear Marian,

Didn't you appreciate the DAR paper for ANOTHER Benjamin Smith? Good thing you can't reach me - or my head would be more wrecked than it is! Right? Have you been to the library and looked at page 164 of the DAR Patriot Index #1? no

I liked it when you told me about the Nancy Smith being the niece of Walt's 3g grandmother. Got quite a charge out of that!

Sure do like your "think - sheets". Any time!

In Mt. Tabor Cemetery in Perry Township - Levi Shirley born 1844 died at 85 years of age, 08 September 1929. Nancy, wife of Levi, born 1851 and died 1915 (which Nancy?) ~ 2nd Wfe
Nancy Ann Smith married 16 March 1865 Boone Co., Indiana
Nancy Jane Roberts married 21 July 1870 Boone Co., Indiana
Nancy Smith married 17 September 1893 Boone Co., Indiana This one? no
Elsie Ottinger married 08 March 1916 Boone Co., Indiana

3 ch. of Elijah > Jas. Jr. Margaret sist. d. of Jas. & Benj.,

Thomas M. Shirley, born c1836, married 09 April 1863 Hendricks Co., Indiana to Margaret Susan Smith. Thomas was a nephew to Martin Shirley.

James Shirley, Sr., second child of John Shirley, Sr., was born in 1769 in Fauquier County, Virginia. About 1796 or '97, he married Elizabeth ___. (She may have been Elizabeth Smith, sister of Aaron Smith.) She named her son Smith. Elizabeth's son, James Shirley, Jr., married his first cousin, Rebbah Smith. James, Sr., and Elizabeth Shirley had seven children.

Thought to be Jas. d. 1801 Barren Co Ky

James Shirley, Sr. lived in Anderson County, South Carolina. He was a member of the "Turkey Creek Baptist Church" and on May 7, 1791 James, Sr. was given a letter of dismissal to go to a more convenient church. In 1800, James, Sr. and Elizabeth had a baby son and a two-year-old daughter. In 1840 James, Sr. and Elizabeth Shirley lived alone. Elizabeth died before 1850 and James, Sr. was living with his son, James Shirley, Jr.

Smith Shirley, of James, Sr., was born 1799, in Anderson County. He married Diademia Smith. They had six children, all born and reared in Anderson County.

John Shirley, Sr. married Elizabeth Barmore.

Must go get some sleep - I'm making too many mistakes!!! This will give you something to think about, anyway! While I get back to your "think-sheets"!!! I DO enjoy them!

Sincerely,

Ruby

ELIGIBILITY CLAUSE

"Any woman is eligible for membership in the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution who is not less than eighteen years of age, and who is descended from a man or woman who, with unfailing loyalty to the cause of American Independence, served as a sailor, or as a soldier or civil officer in one of the several Colonies or States, or in the United Colonies or States, or as a recognized patriot, or rendered material aid thereto; provided the applicant is personally acceptable to the Society." (Constitution, Article III, Section 1.)

*Marriage in every instance in this paper means legal and lawful marriage.
Date of marriage may be substituted for dates of birth and death where such date proves the soldier to have been living during the Revolution and of a suitable age for service.
(Note: Resolution adopted by the twenty-fourth Continental Congress:
Descendants of polygamous marriage are not acceptable as members of this Society.)

James Shirley and Deborah Presley were married by Ralph Petty, pastor of Blue Springs Regular Baptist Church--originally Mud Camp Church--Barren Co.KY. Joseph Presley, Deborah's father, signed the marriage bond

The couple came to Hendricks Co.IN about 1830 and settled on Big Creek, 3 miles south-west of Pittsboro. They were charter members of Big White Lick Regular Baptist Church, which was organized Oct.1833. James was a farmer and, after Deborah's death, was proprietor with his son Francis Marion of a hardware store in Brownsburg.

THE PLAGUE OF ELIZABETHTOWN

Molly first wife of George Shirley died of Asian cholera at the age of 18, when the disease struck in Elizabethtown, IN (now Lizton), a community of some 200 persons. The couple had been married less than seven months.

In the summer of 1873, cholera spread through central United States in a final wave of an epidemic in Asia. It is said that when the number of deaths from cholera had climbed to more than a dozen, Molly became so frightened for her health, that George took her to Danville, which up to that time was cholera-free.

They spent the weekend of Sept.6-7 in the home of John Shirley, George's brother, attending a church meeting Sunday evening. Although Molly had felt fine, she became ill during the night.

The family summoned Dr. William Hoadley, brother-in-law of John and George. Nothing could be done for her. She died the next day "of a pretty fair case of cholera."

It is said that Molly was buried that night after dark, in order to avoid alarming the citizens of Danville.

Cholera killed 24 persons in Elizabethtown in just three weeks. Death occurred within 16 hours ~~after~~ from the onset of the first symptoms. only Four persons became ill, ~~but~~ and did not die. Danville escaped altogether!

--As told by Ruth Hall at Shirley Ass'n Convention, Indianapolis, IN - 1985

only 4 persons recovered.

Richard Shirley family

Richard, m. Dorcas ---; d. 1796 Scott Co.KY

Chn: 1. Sarah Shirley, m. by 1796 Henry Holtzclaw (named in Richard's estate settlement)

2. Susannah Shirley, b. 1 Oct 1767 VA
m. c.1790 Benjamin Smith, SC (b. 15 Sep 1764 VA; d.5 Sep 1853, Boone Co.IN)
d. 29 Apr 1848, Boone Co.IN info sources: Richard Shirley est.adm; 1850 cns.; Barren Co.KY and Boone Co.IN records

3. Amy Shirley - unwed in 1796, named in Richard Shirley's estate adm.

Other Shirleys who appear to be older children of Richard and Dorcas, because they appear in Barren Co. KY with the rest of the Shirley clan. No proof has been found of their relationship to the family, were not named in Richard Shirleys estate administration. The estate was divided in about 8 parts--4 of which were for Dorcas, the widow, and the three daughters. There was reference to "other heirs" unnamed.

Dear Peter,

Thank you for your gracious note of apology. Please skip the formality and call me Marian. I hope you know that it was not my intention to deliberately sabotage the choir. Bill and Cyndi would like to see the Easter display varied from year to year which presents problems, because as you know, the sanctuary has it's limits. It would be much easier for me and my committee to do things more or less the same way year after year. (My theory is that nobody remembers what it looked like before.) As it turned out this year, the arrangement was exactly the same as last!

When you came in I was focused on creating something new and different, and getting those crazy wire stands arranged and covered, a process which always takes more time than I wish it did. I get edgey about keeping my group there all afternoon. We all have to be home for children, dinner, guests, etc. I always think it's wonderful that those women are willing to give any time at all on Good Friday with a family holiday coming up. In short, we all have our problems and your concern that the choir be seen and heard simply slipped my mind. I had no idea you were there until I heard your voice.

couldn't find words

I was thunderstruck; my mind went blank...or what was going on in my head would not connect with my mouth. The problem was not moving that cross once I understood your real objection to its position. The problem was where to put it, which I felt was a Guild decision. I was not about to ask the custodians and the ladies to move things around again, until we had considered alternatives and arrived at some conclusion. I needed time to clear my mind and get hold of myself. The Guild members are all talented, intelligent women. I feel very lucky to have them as the

Levi ~~Smith~~ & wife (which one?)
Shirley

3 July 1992

Dear Marian,

No, I did not send the story of the body-snatching to Betty Shirley - because, that story was sent to me by Mrs. Ralph Earl Kouns (Frieda Eileen Nunally) 6520 East State Road 47, Lebanon, Indiana 46052. She is descended from Martin Shirley through his son, Levi.

Eileen sent me thirteen Family Group Sheets - with names of the children on the backs. And, she has Martin's second and third wives as named SMITH, instead of Shirley. First wife not named - and has no children!!!

Levi Shirley (from Eileen) married:

1 Nancy Ann Smith married 16 March 1865. She died 04 November 1888 age 34

2 Nancy A. (we know it was Nancy Jane Roberts married 21 July 1870

3 Nancy Smith Stoker married 17 September 1893 - her second marriage - age 43 - died 26 February 1915 age 63 - father, Tyre Stoker - mother, Sena Leatherman

4 Elsie Reynolds Ottinger married 08 March 1916

Eileen said ALL the wives are buried at Mt. Tabor Cemetery. That's the way I understood it.

Enclosed is a picture of Levi Shirley and his wife. Which wife??? If you need the picture - do keep it. If you know, I would appreciate knowing - which wife.

My first issue of The Shirley News was Volume 1, No. 1 July 1978 - the last one was Spring (May) 1991. But, sure do appreciate all the material together. I had ordered the Smiths of Virginia by Wulfeck, through the library - but, it did not come. Really enjoy all you send. I just read and re-read - and try to think about what to do next! I must get more information on MY Elizabeth Smith, so she will be accepted instead of ignored, and where did Martin Shirley die???

Not much this time. Had to go to the eye doctor Tuesday, and I have to go back the fourteenth of this month.

Sincerely,

Ruby

To Ruby Martin, Dick Vo ox.

The United States of America.

To all to whom these presents shall come, Greeting:

Whereas, Benjamin Smith of Hendricks County Indiana has deposited in the General Land Office of the United States, a certificate of the Register of the Land Office at Crawfordsville whereby it appears that full payment has been made by the said Benjamin Smith, according to the provisions of the act of Congreſs of the 24th April, 1820, entitled "An act making further provision for the sale of the Public Lands," for the West half of the South East quarter, of section three, in Township Seventeen, North of range One East, in the District of Lands subject to sale at Crawfordsville Indiana, containing Eighty acres.

according to the official plat of the survey of the said Lands, returned to the General Land Office by the Surveyor General, which said tract has been purchased by the said Benjamin Smith

NOW KNOW YE, That the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, in consideration of the premises, and in conformity with the several acts of Congreſs, in such cases made and provided, have given and granted, and, by these presents, do give and grant, unto the said Benjamin Smith and to his heirs, the said tract above described: To Have and to Hold the same, together with all the rights, privileges, immunities and appurtenances, of whatsoever nature thereunto belonging, unto the said Benjamin Smith and to his heirs and aſsigns forever.

In testimony whereof, I, Andrew Jackson PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, have caused these Letters to be made Patent, and the Seal of the General Land Office to be hereunto affixed.

Given under my hand, at the City of Washington, the Sixteenth day of ~~April~~ September in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty five and of the Independence of the United States the ~~fifty ninth~~ Sixtieth.

By the President: Andrew Jackson
By A J Donelson Sec'y.

LINE OF SUCCESSION TO THE THRONE OF ENGLAND - Henry VIII to William and Mary of Orange

[a period of religious and political turmoil]

......England was Catholic (Roman) until the rule of Henry VIII.

Henry VIII, ruled 1509-1547 [During lifetimes of: Sir Ralph IV and Sir Francis Shirley of Ettington and Staunton Herald; Sir Ralph, Sir Richard, and Sir William Shirley of Wiston]

Henry VIII repudiated the the authority of Rome when the Pope refused to annul his 18 year marriage to Catherine of Arogan so that he could marry Anne Boleyn. He subsequently beheaded Anne and married again, a habit which lasted through four more wives. He declared himself head of the Church of England, continuing Catholic tenants of faith and executing both those who remained loyal to the Roman church and other Protestants.

Edward VI, ruled 1547-53 [During lifetime of Sir Francis Shirley of Ettington and Staunton Herald; Sir William Shirley of Wiston]

Edward VI was son of Henry by his third wife Jane Seymour (who died a natural death). Continued the Protestant Church of England during his short reign.

Mary I, ruled 1553-58 [During lifetime of Sir Francis; Sir Thomas the Elder of Wiston]

Mary I was daughter of Henry by his first wife Catherine, raised Catholic by her mother and fanatical in her faith. She caused wholesale slaughter of Protestants and was much hated.

Elizabeth I, ruled 1558-1603 [Sir George and Sir Henry Shirley of Ettington; Sir Thomas Shirley the Elder, Thomas the Younger, Anthony, Robert and Caecilia; and James the playwright.]

Elizabeth I was the daughter of Henry VIII by his second wife Anne Boleyn. She was not particularly religious, but it suited her to restore the Protestant religion. Later she was troubled by both Catholics and Puritans, whom she drove out of the country. Philip II, king of Spain and the strongest Catholic ruler in Europe, proposed to Elizabeth I and was refused; he eventually sent his great fleet of ships to fight England. The British defeated the Spanish in the famous Spanish Armada 1588.

During her reign British colonialism was born with the help of men like Sir Anthony and Sir Robert Shirley, sons of Sir Thomas Shirley the Elder. Besides Philip II of Spain, Elizabeth had many suitors for her hand in marriage, but she never married. Among her court favorites was the first Earl of Essex, ancestor of Dorothy Devereaux who married Sir Henry Shirley, bringing Chartley Castle into the Shirley family. Chartley Castle was the hiding place of Mary Queen of Scots after she was driven from Scotland for her religious views.

[Mary Queen of Scots was the second cousin of Elizabeth I. When Mary, who had been raised as a Catholic, married a Catholic, the Protestant Lords of Scotland revolted. She was forced to abdicate in favor of her infant son (James VI of Scots and James I of England). She was made prisoner on an island from which she managed to escape; tried to raise enough forces to defeat the Protestants failed and fled to England for Elizabeth's protection. She was hidden in Chartley Castle for a while, but --because Elizabeth viewed Mary as a threat to the British throne, she was eventually imprisoned in the Tower of London. After 19 years, she was accused of a plot to murder Elizabeth, condemned and executed....Her son James the VI of Scotland was next in line for the British throne through his descent from Henry VII, the father of Henry VIII]

James I, ruled 1603-1625 [Sir Henry Shirley of Ettington and Staunton Herald; Sir Thomas Shirley the Elder and Thomas the Younger, Anthony, Robert and Caecilia.

James I was also James the VI of Scotland, son of Mary Queen of Scots. He believed in the divine right to rule and royal infallibility. He did not seek to persecute any of the religious groups then existing in England, although he favored the Catholics. His rule united the kingdoms of England and Scotland. It was to this king that Sir Thomas Shirley the Elder proposed his idea for the foundation of the Order of Baronets. The King James version of the Holy Bible was translated into contemporary English at his instigation in 1611.

Charles I, ruled 1625-1649 [Sir Robert Shirley of Ettington and Staunton Herald; Thomas and Robert Shirley of Isfield who may have emigrated to New England. Period when James Smith brough Protestants to Jamestown VA; and the Pilgrims came to Plymouth. Sir Thomas West, husband of Caecilia, was active in VA.]

Charles I was an ardent Episcopalian (Church of England); believed as his father in his divine right to rule absolutely. The House of Commons was Puritan, creating a nasty clash of ideologies. Without support of Parliament, he soon ran out of money. He was forced to concede all to Parliament; was tried for high treason and executed by his enemies. His queen was French. She took her small son (Charles II) and went to her home in France.

The Commonwealth (Oliver Cromwell) · [Sir Robert Shirley of Ettington and Staunton Harold..]

England was governed for 11 years after the death of Charles I by Oliver Cromwell, who was backed by the Puritans and who was installed as Lord Protectorate. The Puritans wanted to "purefy" the churches of priestly vestments, elaborate ceremonies and even statues and colored windows. They wanted to simplify belief, manner of worship and church organization. They also wanted the government conducted without the frills. Oliver Cromwell refused the title of king, but otherwise he acted like one, even wearing purple and ermine robes and sitting on the coronation chair with scepter and sword.

When he died, the English were so tired of the austerity of the Protectorate that they were happy to restore the monarchy, and King Charles II came out of exile.

Charles II, ruled 1649-85 [Sir Robert Shirley and the son Sir Robert the 1st Earl of Ferrers]

Charles II was apparently neutral on the religious problems of England. The plague epidemic came to England, followed by the Great Fire of London occurred during his reign. His only children were illegitimate, the oldest of whom was James, Duke of Monmouth who was a Protestant and had the support of some in his bid for the throne.

James II, ruled 1685-1688 [1st Earl of Ferrers]

James II was the brother of Charles II, and a Catholic who also wanted despotic power. He defeated in battle and executed the Duke of Monmouth in order to secure his position. He had two daughters, Mary and Ann, by his first wife who was Protestant; and when son was born by his Catholic second wife, the prospect of another Catholic king drove the Protestant Whigs to invite the daughter Mary and her husband William of Orange to England. They arrived without opposition, and James II left for France, dropping the Great Seal into the Thames as he left, which was interpreted as abdication. After that time, the rulers of England have been Protestant and religious freedom has been the keynote.

[Ann, second daughter of James II, suceeded William and Mary as Queen of England, further strengthening the Protestant tradition in the royal family.]

ABBREVIATED SHIRLEY PEDIGREE FROM AD 1086 - time of William the Conqueror

(Highlighting British Shirleys of historical interest and those who appear to be ancestors of early American Shirleys]

Sasuuelo, Lord of Etendone (Eatington) received land listed in the Domesday Book, a record of landholders compiled on orders of William the Conqueror 1086.

Henry Lord of Eatington, died 1165

Sewallis de Scyrle, Lord of Eatington, (a nephew of Henry who apparently had no sons.) living 1192; m. (1) Alicia; m.(2) Matilda Ridel ("de Scyrle" was a forerunner of the name "shirley." The name appears to come from the words Shire and Lea--that is the meadow in the shire (county) where important community gatherings were held. This meadow must have been near Eatington at one time. (died 1129) Said to have been a Crusader with King Richard in the first seige of Acre 1190.

Henry de Scyrle, Lord of Eatington, died 1165

Sir Sewallis de Eatington, knight, died 1243, was knighted for his participation in the Crusades. Married Isabel Meysnyll, daughter of Robert Meysnyll of Leicester.

Sir James, knight, Lord of Eatington, died 1278; married Agnes de Walton

Sir Ralph Shirley,(I), Lord of Eatington, died 1327--first to use "Shirley" as a last name. married Margaret Waldershef.

Sir Thomas Shirley, Lord of Eatington, died 1363; married Isabella, dau. of Ralph the last Baron Basset of Drayton. Thos. was known as the "Great Father of the Shirleys"!

Sir Hugh Shirley, Lord of Eatington; died 22 July 1403 at the Battle of Shrewsbury; m. Beatrice de Braose of Wiston, whose family home Wiston Manor was eventually inherited by her Shirley heirs. (see "Stories")

Sir Ralph Shirley (II), Lord of Eatington, b. 1392; d. 1443; participated in the Battle of Agincourt in 1414; married--
(1) Joan Bassett who was mother of Ralph III
(2) Alice Cockayne of Youlgrave (heir to Wiston House)
[see "Stories"]

Sir Ralph Shirley (III), Lord of Eatington, died 1466; inherited Wiston House; married--
(1st) Margaret Staunton of Staunton Harold 1423, who was the sole heir of Staunton Harold, the ancestral home of Earl Ferrers.
(2nd) Elizabeth Blount, whose descendants inherited Wiston House.

---> 1. John Shirley, oldest son by Margaret Staunton, in herited Eatington and Staunton Herald. John m. Elianor Willoughby, d. 1486, - ETTINGTON Shirleys descend from John. (immediately below)

---> 2. Ralph Shirley of Wiston, oldest son of Sir Ralph III and 2nd wife Elizabeth Blount, inherited Wiston, and is considered the first of the Wiston Shirleys....see Wiston Shirleys section below. Sir Ralph married Joan Bellingham. The Wiston Shirleys are the ancestors of the Caecilia Shirley who married Sir Thomas West, Barron De LaWarr (Delaware). Sir Thomas West was governor of VA and first owner of Shirley Plantation, located in the Williamsburg area of Virginia. (More about Caecilia and her brothers later.)

Sir John Shirley, Lord of Eatington, dec. 1486, inherited both Eatington and Staunton Herald m. Elianor Willoughby. Was first Shirley to live at Staunton Harold.

Sir Ralph Shirley IV, Lord of Eatington; dec. 1517

Sir Francis Shirley, Lord of Eatington, b. 28 Apr 1541; d. Aug. 1571 - Leased Eatington to the Underhill family for 100 years, because his step-daughters had married Underhills. Purchased church St. Mary St. Hardulph Breedon. Both Eatington and Staunton Harold were re-built and "modernized." The generations following lived at Staunton Harold.

Sir George Shirley, Lord of Eatington; b. 23 Apr 1559; d.27 Apr 1622 (grand-son of Francis. John, son of Francis and father of George pre-deceased his father in 1570) George was 1st Baronet, for which he paid King James I fifty pounds. (see Sir Thomas the Elder of Wiston, below)

Sir Henry Shirley, Bart. and Lord of Eatington; b.1588; d. 8 Feb 1633; married Lady Dorothy Devereux, dau. of Robert Devereux, second Earl of Essex--the special friend of Queen Elizabeth I.--an heir to the Devereux estates which included Chartley Castle. Established the Family pedigree. [See "Stories"]

Sir Robert Shirley, Bart. and Lord of Eatington, 1629-1656, a devout Romanist and ardent royalist. Died in the Tower of London 1656. The lease to the Underhills was up in 1641, and the Shirleys were again in possession of Eatington. [see Stories]

Sir Robert Shirley, Bart. Lord of Eatington, Baron Ferrers of Chartley (1677), Earl Ferrers & Viscount Tamworth (1711)...the additional titles conferred by Charles II after the Restoration. Sir Robert was called to the House of Peers as the 1st Earl of Ferrers. Sir Robt. b. 1650, d. 1717; married:

(1st) Elizabeth Washington, whose brother was the great-grandfather of George Washington; had 17 children. The oldest son of this marriage inherited Staunton Herald; Ferrers title and Chartley Castle.

(2nd) Selina Finch and had 10 more. The oldest son of this marriage inherited Eatington, whose descendants have held Eatington to the present.

[see "Stories" for more about some of Sir Robert's children]

STAUNTON HAROLD

...was sold by the grandfather of the present Earl of Ferrers. It is located about 30 miles north-west of Leicester, and about 50 miles as the crow flies from Ettington. The present Earl is the 13th Earl of Ferrers. He has been influential in British government as a member of Parliament and of the Queen's Privy Council. He is a farmer, and presently lives on land owned for generations by his wife's family. I cannot now recall what use has been made of Staunton Harold, but it has been fairly well preserved and cared for. The church built by Sir Robert who died in the Tower of London has been given to the British government for perpetual preservation.

EATINGTON MANOR - (now) Ettington Park

Is located 5 miles south of Stratford-on-Avon, home of William Shakespear. It has been held by the Shirley family since the time of William the Conqueror, when the old book of land holdings was compiled...called the Domesday Book, dated 1085 AD. The name Eatington comes from old English words signifying "water" (E A) and "dune" or "dun" meaning a hill. "For at the foot of an hill and near a river doth it stand." The Shirleys are the only British family fortunate enough to have retained their land from those ancient days.

The Domesday Book entry: "Sasuualo holds of Henry de Feriers seventeen hundred acres in Etendone...and there are ten bondmen [slaves]; there are thirty-two villeins [superior slaves], with a priest, twenty-five borders [cottagers], one soldier and two thanes [freeholders]. They have sixteen ploughs: a mill pays eighteen shillings, and there are thirty acres of meadow. It was worth six pounds, and afterwards four pounds, now twenty pounds."

The present manor house is the third to occupy the site. The original was of Saxon construction, the second Tudor, which was rebuilt in the 18th and 19th centuries, incorporating an elaborate Victorian-Gothic facade and other interesting architectural features of that period. In recent years a wing was added, and the house is now used as a luxury hotel. The present owner John Shirley is a direct descendant the above Sir Robert's oldest son by his second marriage. John Shirley's home is in Ireland; he has a grown son, who also has a son....so it appears Ettington will continue in Shirley hands for at least 1000 years. The shell of the original church on the property still stands, and one wall of it has been incorporated into a "new" church built in the 19th century. Sir Ralph III is buried there.

THE WISTON SHIRLEYS (see above Sir Ralph Shirley III, whose son Ralph begins the line of Wiston Shirleys.

Ralph Shirley, died 1510; married Joan Bellingham--succeeded to Wiston 1466. Buried in the church at Wiston. The Shirleys of Wiston were content to lead unspectacular lives as country gentlemen until Sir Thomas Shirley, the elder. (Below)

Sir Richard Shirley, knght. Sheriff of counties Surrey and Sussex; one of the knights of the body of King Henry VIII; died 1540 and is buried in the Wiston Church. (His brother Thomas marks the beginning of the West Grinstead Shirleys.)

Pedigree 3

Sir William Shirley, d. 1551--had two sons: Sir Thomas the Elder below; and Anthony whose descendants are described as the Shirleys of Preston, another piece of real estate the Shirleys inherited at some point. The Preston Shirley line is not important in tracing the American Shirleys and is not developed here, except for proof of a family relationship with the early Shirleys in New England.

[William Shirley, early governor of the Massachusettes Colony, was a descendant of the Preston Shirleys. As Royal Governor, he had business dealings with an Irish community in New Hampshire, where a James Shirley of Ireland lived after 1730. One finds many Irish connections among the Wiston, Preston, Isfield lines of Shirleys.]

Sir Thomas Shirley, the elder, m. Anne Kempe; died 1612. Introduced the idea of the baronetage, which was available to almost any wealthy man willing to pay the king for the title. (See Sir George above) [Also see "Stories"] Shirleys. He had five sons and seven daughters, the most interesting of whom are listed here:

1. Sir Thomas Shirley, the Younger, b. 1564. Also traveled widely acting as a privateer or pirate, raiding ships of the Spanish and Turkish; eventually sold Wiston to pay debts. and was living in Spain in 1636. Had no children. (see Stories)
2. Sir Anthony Shirley, b. 1565, under the queen's favor, traveled widely--Persia, Russia, Germany, Italy, Spain, etc. (see Stories)
3. Sir Robert Shirley traveled as widely as Anthony, served as Ambassador to Persia and married a Persian princess--the Lady Teresia. (see Stories)
4. Caecilia Shirley m. Thomas West, Lord de La Warr; first governor of Virginia and owner of land now called Shirley Planation at Williamsburg.
5. Jane Shirley m. John Shirley of Isfield. John Shirley a kinsman, exact relationship not known. This marriage is significant in establishing the identity of the earliest Shirleys in New England. A conveyance (deed) found in British research contains the names of John Shirley of Isfield; Thomas Shirley of Wiston; and Anthony Shirley of Preston; but does not indicate their relationships to each other.

[James Shirley, the playwright, may also have descended from the Wiston Shirleys.]

* * * * * * * * * *

A Thomas Shirley arrived New England 1635 on the ship "John and Thomas", who may be the same as Thomas who died Northumberland Co. VA 1696; and whose children are registered in St. Stephens Parish.

A Robert Shirley arrived Maryland 1634 on the ship "Ark and Dove"

It appears these two may have descended from George Shirley of Isfield, brother of John who married Jane of Wiston. George Shirley is buried in the Isfield church; and was evidentally the last Shirley in the area. Little is known at this time about his seven sons.

Stories of Shirleys of Historical Interest

The Shirleys - Origins and Historical Background

The Romans ruled England 55 BC - 410 AD. In the period that followed, there were a series of invasions: Anglos, Saxons and Danes. The Danes were called "Vikings" in England and "Normans" in France in the 8th-10th centuries. The Norman Invasion of England in 1066 was a major event in English history. During the time between the Romans and the Norman invasion, a system of feudal government evolved. It applied to various areas called "Shires" which correspond to our counties. The shire was made up of estates called "Manors". Overlords of these landed areas were titled Duke, Marquess, Earl, Viscount and Baron...all called "Lord". Those working for the Lords were known only by a given name and his vocation. They seldom left the area where they lived except to do battle for the Lord, when they were identified by their armor. Therefore, there was no need to what we call surnames (family names). The Shirley family had its origin with the Norman Invasion as did many other British families when the land was recorded in the Domesday Book...1286.

The British Shirley ancestry is known due to Sir Henry Shirley, who caused the records to be searched in 1588 and who then established the Greater Pedigree. In 1873, Evelyn Philip Shirley wrote a family history which contains more than 400 pages, some of it written in Latin.

Sir Hugh Shirley, Lord of Eatington; died 22 July 1403 at the Battle of Shrewsbury. He was one of four knights who dressed in the King's armor in order to draw out and kill the Scotch leader Douglas. (Douglas killed them all.) The event was immortalized by William Shakespear in the early part of "Henry IV"

Douglas: "Another king! They grow like Hydras' heads:
I am Douglas, fatal to all those
That wear those colours on them---What art thou
That counterfeit'st the person of the King?....."

Henry: "Hold up thy head, vile Scot, or thou art like Never to hold it up again! The spirits
Of valient Shirley, Stafford, Blunt, are in my arms...."

Sir Ralph Shirley (II), Lord of Eatington, b. 1392; d. 1443; participated in the Battle of Agincourt in 1414, one of several battles with the French. 13,000 Englishmen were victorious over 50,000 French fighting men, because they used long bows, which the French did not have. This battle helped to bring about the end of Feudal warefare. He assisted at the coronation of Henry IV in Paris; and served as Sheriff of Nottingham and Derby.

Sir Henry Shirley, Baronet and Lord of Eatington; b.1588; d. 8 Feb 1633. He married Lady Dorothy Devereux, daughter of the 2nd Earl of Essex, a special friend of Queen Elizabeth I. She was heir with her brother to the Devereaux estates which included Chartley Castle. His sons Charles and Robert eventually held these estates.

Sir Henry caused the records to be searched for all information concerning his English ancestors and established the family pedigree, which is a hand-painted document half the size of a tennis court, called "The Greater Ferrers Pedigree", because there is a smaller one also. The pedigree is now stored in a museum in Leicester; and is owned by Robert Washington Shirley, the present (13th) Earl of Ferrers.

From his mother's family, Henry was descended from King Edward III and King Philip IV (called "The Fair") of France, whose daughter Isabella married King Edward. Dorothy Devereux was descended from King Edward I. Therefore the Shirleys can claim to carry a drop or two of royal blood.

Sir Henry's two sons, Charles and Robert, were very young when their father died, and they were placed under the guardianship of Robert Devereux, 3rd Earl of Essex and brother of Lady Dorothy. When the Underhill's lease on Ettington was up in 1841, he reclaimed Ettington on their behalf. When Robert Devereux died, the Charley estates came to these sons of Henry along with Ettington and Staunton Herald. Charles died without heirs, and the estates and titles went to Robert, who was famous in his own right.

Sir Robert Shirley, Baronet and Lord of Eatington, 1629-1656, the son of Sir Henry, was a devout Romanist and ardent loyalist. (King Charles I was executed in 1649; and the eleven year Commonwealth led by Olivery Cromwell followed--a dangerous time to be openly Catholic and loyal to the crown)

Oliver Cromwell made it a crime to keep any of the ejected Catholic clergy in their homes as tutors or chaplains; the Catholic clergy were forbidden to preach; and the use of the Book of Common Prayer was also forbidden. Sir Robert built a church at Staunton Harold to replace the old ruined family chapel and dedicated it to the Holy Trinity. It was the only church built during the time of the Commonwealth. Oliver Cromwell was so incensed by Sir Robert's boldness that he ordered Sir Robert to fit out a ship, saying, "He that could afford to build a church could no doubt afford to equip and ship." When Sir Robert refused, he was taken to the Tower of London, where he died in 1656. It was the seventh time he had been imprisoned for the sake of his religion and his loyalty. Because of his young age and the suddeness of his death, it was suspected that he was poisoned. He is buried in a vault beneath the chancel of Staunton Harold church, which looks much the same as it did then and now belongs to the National Trust.

His widow Katherine received a letter from King Charles in Brussels, where he was living during the time of Cromwell in 1657, expressing his sympathy and promising to care for her and the children. The letter is still in existence...in the possession of Robert Washington Shirley, present Earl of Ferrers.

Sir Robert Shirley, Baronet and Lord of Eatington, Baron Ferrers of Chartley (1677), Earl Ferrers & Viscount Tamworth (1711)...the additional titles conferred after the Restoration. He was the son of Sir Robert who died in the Tower of London. He married Elizabeth Washington, whose brother was the grandfather of George Washington. Sir Robert served (1682) as Master of the Horse to Catharine Queen Dowager, and later (1685) one of the Privy Council of King James II, as well as a commission (Colonel) of a regiment of foot soldiers. He served also in the Privy Council of King William (1692). Queen Ann (1711) advanced him to Viscount and Earl by the style and title of Earl Ferrers and Viscount Tamworth.

Sir Robert had a total of 27 children (2 marriages). Some are interesting to know about. Many American Shirleys descend from this marriage.

1. Sir Robert, eldest son of Robert and Elizabeth, lived at Chartley Castle. He had three sons, all of whom died young. His daughter Elizabeth inherited the Chartley estates and succeeded to the title of Baroness Ferrers of Chartley. She married James, 5th Earl of Northampton, and the Chartley estates passed to the Earl's family.

Chartley Castle is known historically as the hiding place of Mary Queen of Scots, from which place she escaped by riding a horse whose shoes had been mounted backwards to make it look as though she was coming instead of going. (One of these horseshoes was found in the old moat and now belongs to the above mentioned Robert Washington Shirley, present Earl of Ferrers. Chartley Castle is now in ruins.

Chartley Park, a 1000 acre forest, was the home of the last wild cattle roaming England before William the Conqueror. In 1248 AD, some of these wild cattle were driven into the park where they lived for 600 years. They are white and very similar to longhorns. They almost disappeared all together due to disease and fire. In 1905, the remains of the herd were crossed with a longhorn, and since then have been growing in numbers. Robert Shirley, present Earl of Ferrers, owns one of the two large herds now in existence.

2. Sir Washington Shirley, 1677-1729, 2nd Earl of Ferrers, had no sons; but one interesting daughter Selina, who married Theophilus, 9th Earl of Huntingdon, who died 1746. She survived him by 45 years and devoted her life to her religious faith. She was Calvenistic in her views, and joined the Society of Methodists. She appointed the famous George Whitfield as her chaplain, and established 64 meeting houses in various parts of England. She devoted most of her fortune to trustees for the maintenance of seminaries. She went often to hear John or Charles Wesley preach. (Founders of the Methodist Church)

At this time, there was a spiritual barrenness in England. Itinerent preachers began to preach in the open air to large crowds which the formal church (Church of England) was failing to reach. While powerful preachers such as the Wesleys and George Whitfield preached to the common people, Selina worked to save the souls of nobility, many of whom laughed at her. She even spoke to the Archbishop of Canterbury regarding his worldly behavior. When he laughed, she arranged an audience with King George III and Queen Charlotte, who sharply rebuked the churchman.

When the Methodist movement traveled to the new world, she inherited Bethesda in Georgia, one of the oldest homes for boys in the United States. She used her own funds to pay some of the home's expenses; and sold her jewelry to help rebuild some of the buildings which burned down in a fire.

There is a large window over the entrance of Ote Hall, another Shirley family home near Brighton in Sussex, where Lady Selina Huntington stood to preach to the crowds who came to hear her.

3. Lewis Shirley, fifth son of Sir Robert and Elizabeth (Washington) Shirley, sailed on a mercantile voyage to Emoris (Amoy) a European settlement on the now deserted coast of China about 1700. He returned in 1702 and later undertook another voyage for the East India Company about 1709. It appears he died before the ship reached China.

4. Sir Henry Shirley, ninth son of Robert, was insane. He succeeded to the titles after his brother Washington died, but not the estates, being considered unfit.

5. Laurence Shirley, youngest son of Robert and Elizabeth, received the lands without the titles (because Henry had the titles). His son also named Laurence received both titles and lands after the deaths of Henry and Laurence Sr.

5-a Sir Laurence Shirley, 4th Earl of Ferrers; 1720-1766, grandson of Robert and Elizabeth and son of Laurence. While his behavior was occassionally eccentric, Sir Laurence was regarded as capable when not in one of his outbursts of temper. In 1752, he married a daughter of Amos Meredith; six years later, she obtained an Act of Parliament for separation, the grounds being the "cruelty of the Earl."

At this time the estates he was to inherit became vested in trustees and John Johnson, the earl's steward who had been for many years in the service of the Shirleys, was appoined receiver of rents. Ferrers, thereafter, disliked Johnson, fancied the man was against him, and on the evening of January 18, 1760, when they were alone together, Sir Laurence shot the steward with a pistol. The neighbors gathered about the house during the night, and when Sir Laurence came out brandishing his sword, all ran away, except one man who managed to disarm him and hand him over to authorities. Johnson died the next day, and the earl tried for murder. The law in those days, if a person was accused of murder, he could not have counsel, but could present his own case without cross-examination. He tried to show he was not responsible for his actions, but his plea was not accepted.

On the 5 May 1760, dressed in his wedding suit of white silk laced with silver, he drove from the Tower of London to Tyburn in his own landau drawn by six horses and there he was hanged. It is reported that he chatted with the chaplain, and yelled at the crowds as he was bourne to Tyburn. In death, his Lordship was somewhat of a pioneer. When the rope was around his noble neck, there was no push of a cart to launch him into eternity. For him, it was a trapdoor and the drop. He was the first to die on a scaffold of a more modern design.

5-b Walter Shirley - brother of Laurence, Washington and Robert, was a prominent Calvinistic clergy who enjoyed the patronage of his first cousin, the Lady Selina (Shirley) Huntington.

6. Walter Shirley - son of Robert and Elizabeth, uncle of the above Walter, emigrated to New England. He has many descendants among American Shirleys. George Washington's father was Walter's first cousin. In fact, the relationships of most of the earliest American Shirleys can easily be charted.

7. George Shirley, son of Robert and his 2nd wife Selina Finch - b. 1705, attended Queen Anne as one of her pages; entered the army when only 16 years old (1721) as an ensign in the First Regiment of Foot Guards. He was at the siege of Gibralter in 1727, where he caught Yellow Fever and nearly died. He settled at Eatington, the original seat of his family.

8. Mary Shirley daughter of Robert and his 2nd wife Selina Finch, married Charles Tyron, who were the parents of William Tyron, royal governor of North Carolina 1765-1771 (see below)

THE WISTON SHIRLEYS (see Ralph, son of Ralph III) first of the Wiston Shirley line.

The family described here is well documented by many public records and private papers in England, Spain and France. Their story has been written in detail in a book called "Elizabethans Errant" by D.W.Davies. These Shirleys had an impact on the history of Europe and the Middle East, and are credited by both Iranians and Europeans with opening the Middle-East to commerce with Europe.

Sir Thomas Shirley, the elder, (1542-1612) m. Anne Kempe. The Wiston Shirleys lived very quiet lives until the time of Sir Thomas the Elder. Elizabeth I was Queen. Powerful Spain threatened Europe at sea and on the land. Trade with New World was developing. Sir Francis Drake made daring raids against Spanish ships, which was quietly encouraged by Elizabeth. Apparently, others undertook similar, if less spectacular, activities. Everyone was looking for adventure and riches, including these Wiston Shirleys.

Sir Thomas had Wiston remodeled at great expense, and became sheriff of Sussex and Surrey. The sheriff in those days was an expensive responsibility: all kinds of fees to pay; maintainance for a representative in Parliament and a number of deputies. He was expected to entertain with lavish dinners regularly. His duties included execution of writs from the courts in his shire; police duties; collection of fines, etc. Afterwards, he became Treasurer at War in the Netherlands, where the British were helping the people in a war against the Spanish. In this capacity, he fell under the displeasure of the Queen, later going in debt to the Crown. His estates and personal effects, except for Wiston manor, were siezed. The house was settled on his wife. This situation contributed to the interesting lives of his children--especially Thomas the Younger, Anthony, Robert and Caecilia.

Sir Thomas Shirley, the Younger, married against the wishes of his father and Elizabeth I, spending 14 weeks in prison until he wrote a formal letter of apology. Later he served in the Netherlands and as a member of Parliament. Inspired by the adventures of his brothers, he undertook sea voyages to foreign parts. In about 1602, he launched a crusade on Turkey, and was captured attempting to take a Greek island. He was imprisoned for 33 months and was released following the payment by King James of an enormous ransom. He returned home on foot, was in an out of prison for rather obscure reasons, until he agreed to remove himself to the Isle of Wight, where he lived until he died 1627. He was knighted while serving in Ireland.

[One of his sons--Henry Shirley was murdered in 1627 by Henry Bishop of Sussex. Apparently he went to Bishop to collect an annuity owed by Bishop. He was unarmed when Bishop drew his sword and ran him through.]

Sir Anthony Shirley, first embarked in the Wars in the Netherlands. Later under the patronage of Lord Essex, he undertook expeditions against the Isle of St. Thomas and settlements of the Spaniards in the West Indies. Later he was sent by Essex to Italy to help with a claim against the Pope. From Venice, Sir Anthony sailed to Persia to enlist their help against the Turks and to establish commercial trade. His brother Robert went with him. Leaving Robert in Persia, Anthony proceeded to Russia as an ambassador of the Persian King to all the Princes of Europe. From Russia, he traveled throughout what is now Germany, Czechoslavakia, Austria, Rome, Morocco and Spain. He instigated many trade alliances of European nations with Persia (now Iran); and he himself organized many commercial voyages to the Middle-East. He died after 1627 in Spain. There are no records of children.

Sir Anthony was a soldier of fortune, and changed his loyalties as his personal fortunes dictated. In addition, he was Catholic in a time when Protestants and Catholics were competing for political control all over Europe, as well as in England. While in the Netherlands, while serving his Queen (nominal Protestant), he received a medal from the French (Catholic) for service to that country. (The Queen took the medal away from him.) While in Venice, it appears he acted as a kind of triple spy for King James of England, the Roman Emperor in Prague, and the King of Spain, probably drawing stipends from all three at the same time.

He went to Persia representing England; went to Russia and other places representing Persia. Finally, in Spain, he made many proposals "for the good of Spain," which included the suggestion that if the Spanish could control Morocco and Gibralter, they could control shipping in the strait. The Spanish reaction can be summed up in the comments of the Mayor of Leon: Anthony says he's rich, but no one has the kind of money it takes to do what he has done and proposes to do. He owes everyone money, and never finishes what he starts. "Wherever he goes, he sets great schemes in motion...he knows too much about the [Spanish] Monarchy."

Anthony was considered dangerous, fickle, and corrupt; and the Spanish concluded it was better to pay him and keep him in Spain where he could do no more harm. He lived in Spain on a pension of 2000 ducats (very small amount) for some twenty years. In 1627, it was recorded, "The first and formost among the English futigtives in the court of Spain is Sir Anthony Shirley, who stiles himselfe (sic) Earle [Count] of the Sacred Romane Emipire.....This Sir Anthony is a great plotter and projector in matters of state and undertakes strategems to invade and ruinate his native countrey. He died after 1636 without no known children.

Sir Robert Shirley, accompanied his brother Sir Anthony to Persia. After Sir Anthony's departure for Russia, Robert remained in Persia for several years, during which time he distinguished himself in Persia's war against the Turks. The Persians bought canons and other arms from the British, and Robert showed the Persians how to use them, along with other battle strategies. While there, Sir Robert married Teresia, a Persian princess. In 1609, the King of Persia sent Robert, as he had Anthony, as an ambassador to several princes of Christondom. He traveled to Poland, Germany (where he received the title of Earl [Count] palatine and knight of the Roman Empire), Italy and Spain, where he was reunited with his brother Anthony. Lady Teresia joined him in Spain and they traveled to France and finally home to Wiston. They had one son, whose godparents were the Queen of England and Prince of Wales and who died an infant. Later they traveled to India, Persia, Spain, and Rome. Portraits of Sir Robert and Lady Teresia were painted by Van Dyke on this visit. When they next returned to England, a second ambassador from Persia had shown up, much to the confusion of the King. In order to settle the dispute, Robert and Teresia returned to Persia, where Robert died shortly. Lady Teresia retired to Rome, moving Sir Robert's remains to that city for burial.

Caecilia Shirley was sister of Thomas, Anthony and Robert. She married Thomas West, Lord de La Warr; first governor of Virginia and owner of land now called Shirley Planation at Williamsburg. Little is known about her personal life except that she did not accompany her husband on his trips to the New World, and therefore never saw the land which bore her family name.

MISCELLANEOUS SHIRLEYS

James Shirley, English playwright and poet. - 1596-1666

James Shirley was educated at Spenser's old school, the Merchants Taylors', and at both Oxford and Cambridge. He took Anglican orders and became headmaster of the grammar school at St. Albans. He converted to Roman Catholicism and in 1625 set himsef up as a playwright in London. He wrote almost every type of play except the chronical history: masques, comedies, tragi-comedies and tragedies. There are thirty-one known, more than by any contemporary except Fletcher and Shakespear. His career was cut short by the strict laws of Oliver Cromwell's Puritan Parliament forbiding drama and other "frivolities."

His plays were written for the royal court and aristocracy generally. Only now and then were one of his plays presented at the Globe, where William Shakespear's dramas played often (to the common folk). James was descended from the Wiston Shirleys and was by trade a Goldsmith. He died 1634; had two brothers Robert and John, also of London.

SHIRLEYS IN THE NEW WORLD

Shirley Plantation. The colony of Virginia was established 13 May 1607 by the London Company, with 105 emigrants, led by Capt. John Smith. Because of many hardships and difficulties, the small band started back to England the next year. When they reached the mouth of the James River, they were met by a shipload of new colonists and plenty of fresh supplies. The new group was led by Sir Thomas West, Lord Delaware, who was determined to develop the Virginia colony. The disheartened settlers turned back. In order to form communities and better protect themselves against the hostile Indians, Sir Thomas West encouraged the establishment of "Hundreds"...that is and area of land on which about one-hundred families would live, work together, collect their dues, hold their courts and manage themselves generally.

Sir Thomas West had married Caecilia Shirley, daughter of Sir Thomas Shirley the Elder in 1596. Afterwards, he became the 7th Baron De La War (Lord Delaware) and spent a fortune settling Virginia. The Shirley Plantation was established in 1613 by Sir Thomas and first called "West & Shirley Hundred"--later shortened to "Shirley."

Shirley Plantation was sold in 1660 to Col. Edward Hill and remained in the Hill family until the 3rd Edward Hill gave it to his daughter Elizabeth as a wedding gift at her marriage to John Carter. Their daughter Ann Hill Carter was born at Shirley in 1773 and married at age 20 to "Light Horse" Harry Lee. They were the parents of Robert E. Lee, general of the Confederate Army in the Civil War. The cradle in which the infant R.E. Lee slept still stands in the master bedroom at Shirley.

Shirley Plantation is located on the plantation highway which paraelels the James River, not far from Williamsburg, VA. It was a well-known center of hospitality for over one-hundred years, including the American Revolution. George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and other notables of early US history were entertained at Shirley. During the Revolution, it was a supply center for the Continental Army, and twice a listening post for both sides, being caught in the No-man's land between the British at Hopewell and Lafayette's Army at Malvern Hill.

During the Civil War, Shirley survived the Peninsular Campaign and the battle for nearby Richmond, capitol of the Southern Confederacy, being considered an historical treasure by both sides.

The present mansion was built in 1723 and finished in 1770 and is largely still in its original state. It contains a carved staircase which rises without visible means of support to the floors above, the only one of its kind in America. It is a kind of family museum, containing many family heirlooms which date back to the Revolution.

Governor William Tyron, son of Mary Shirley Tyron (above) came to North Carolina as Lt.-Governor in 1764, and became governor the next year when the former governor died. He served from 1765-1771; and in most ways was the best of all North Carolina's colonial governors. He improved the state's postal system and transportation facilities; established the Cherokee boundry line which contributed to the orderly settlement of western North Carolina. Queen's College was founded at Charlotte; and New Bern became the state capitol. He erected a magnificent residence for the governors which came to be known as Tyron's Palace; and is a popular tourist attraction today. His greatest difficulties with the colonists came about because of their rebellion over the English Stamp Act and over the poll tax levied to pay for the extravagant palace.

Governor William Shirley of Mass. was the son of William Shirley, a merchant in London, and Elizabeth Godman, heir to Ote Hall, an estate in Sussex. Following his education at Cambridge, he practiced law for eleven years, when financial reverses caused him to move to the new world. He was in Massachusetts by 1732, served in various positions in colonial government, and was finally appointed governor of Mass. in 1741; and General and Commander in Chief of His Majesty's forces in North America in 1750. He died in 1771 and was buried in the vault of King's Chapel in Roxbury, MA. King's Chapel was the first Protestant episcopal chapel in America; and was rebuilt in 1849, the cornerstone having been laid by William Shirley. Governor William Shirley was first cousin of Lady Caecilia who married Sir Thomas West.

Belle Starr, was born 5 Feb 1848 in Jasper Co. MO near Medoc, later called Georgia City. Her name was Myra Belle Shirley, daughter of John Shirley and his 3rd wife Eliza. The family appears in the 1850 Federal census of Jasper Co. John, 54 yrs. b. VA; Eliza, 34, b.VA; Charlotte, 12 yrs. b.IN; John A.M. 8 yrs. b. MO; MYRA 2 yrs; b. MO; and Benton 9 mos. b. MO. Two more children were born to John and Eliza after 1850.

Federal census records of IN show that John was in Harrison Co. IN 1810. (Floyd Co. was formed from Harrison and Clark Cos. in 1819) John lived in Floyd Co. IN 1820 and 1830. The family moved from MO to Dallas Co. TX about 1865. At least four of John Shirley's children were outlaws. Ed Shirley, a noted horse thief, was shot off his horse near Dallas 1868 by the MO cavalry; Manfred, another brother, was killed in a fight with officers in the Indian terretory in 1869; John A.M. (Allison) was killed in southwestern MO during the Civil War.

Belle married 1st John C. Reed/Read Nov 1866 in Collin Co.TX. Reed was abandit. Their associates were other bandits such as Quanaaatrill's gang. There were two chidren: Rosie Lee ("Pearl") Reed, b. 1868 in MO and James Edwin Reed, b.22 Feb 1871 in California. John Reed was killed in a fight with officers Aug. 1874. She married (2nd) another out-law Sam Starr 5 Jun 1880 in the Cherokee Nation. Sam Starr was slain at a dance in the Chactaw Nation. Belle then became the "moll" of John Starr, her husband's brother.

Belle was shot to death while horseback riding at sunset near Eufaula, Indiana Terretory (OK) 3 Feb 1889. Her killer was never found. Belle's daughter "Pearl" lived in Ft. Smith, Arkansas where she opened a "boarding house". James Edwin was in trouble with the law several times, and in July 1889, a jury found him guilty of receiving stolen property. He was sentenced to five years in the Ohio penetentiary. Pearl hired lawyers who succeeded in persuading the President of the United States to grant a pardon in 1893. By 1895, Ed was serving as a Deputy Marshal at Wagoner when he was killed trying to make an arrest.

Belle's mother died in 1894. Her obituary reported that she had been living for several years on the charity of the Methodist Church, of which she was a member. She was regarded as a "pattern of piety."

Henry Garnett Shirley Memorial Highway, located in Maryland, was a descendant of Walter Shirley, the early New England settler. (I cannot now recall what he did to have a highway named for him.] He was born 1874.

Eliza Shirley - had something to do with organizing of the Savation Army.
